GOVERNOR FERGUSON SIGNS BILL FOR NEW MCLENNAN CO. COURT

ASSURANCE IS GIVEN WACO ATTORNEYS THAT MATTER IS SETTLED AND WHEN SENATE RESUMES ERWIN J. CLARK WILL BE NOMINATED FIRST JUDGE.

BAN PUT ON JUNKETING TRIPS

Resolution Providing for Two Committees, One to Visit Farms and One to Visit Prison, Killed in Senate by 16 to 6—Fight Develops Between Houston and Beaumont.

Austin, Jan. 29.—Governor Ferguson this afternoon signed the bill giving McLennan county a new district court, to be called the 74th district court, and next week when the senate resumes sessions, he will nominate Erwin J. Clark, son of Judge George Clark, of Waco, to be the first judge of that court.

This assurance was given a delegation of Waco attorneys, among whom were Judge J. E. Yantis, W. M. Sleeper and A. T. Clifton, today. There is no other applicant for the new seat on the bench.

Junketing trips at the expense of the state will not be indulged in by the state this session if the precedent set this afternoon is followed. By a vote of 16 to 6 a resolution sent in from the committee on penitentiaries providing for two committees of three each to go to the prisons and the state farms, was killed. There was a long debate over it and the disposition was plainly evidenced that such excursions around the state will not prove popular with the senators.

Almost the entire afternoon was consumed in discussion of the fight between Houston and Beaumont over the establishment of a new court of civil appeals. Galveston became a factor in the contest when Townsend introduced what he called an amendment that if adopted would take the seat of the first court of appeals from Galveston and locate it in Beaumont while the present judges of that court will become judges of the new ninth court to be located at Houston. This started a lively row. It meant the annihilation of the hopes and ambitions of several distinguished lawyers of Houston, who have been watching the progress of this bill eagerly in the expectation that they would fall heirs to the places on the bench of the new court.

Senator Hall of Wharton, who represents the Galveston district, fought the amendment until he succeeded over the strenuous opposition of Bailey of Harris in having it postponed until Tuesday afternoon next, 2 o'clock, in order to give the Houston interests, which hitherto had not been concerned in the war between Houston and Beaumont, an opportunity to be heard in behalf of retaining the court at Galveston.

Morrow opposed the creation of any new court and quoted figures which he said showed that all the business of the state could be taken care of by the courts now established.

The emergency appropriation bill giving $275,000 to the A. & M. college also was signed along with the joint resolution accepting funds provided by the Smith-Lever act in congress for co-operative agricultural extension.

See offered a bill establishing an industrial welfare fund for the protection of the health, lives and morals of such workers.

Barwin put in a bill for the creation of the Stephen F. Austin normal in northeast Texas, and providing an appropriation of one hundred thousand.

Governor Ferguson has decided upon the following for the Galveston pilot board:

Captain, T. J. Anderson; Tom L. Cross, R. Waverly Smith, Charles N. Rhode, Henry C. Kinnick, and last named is the only new member.

Nominations for the boards of several state institutions will go to the senate Monday, as follows:

Board of Regents, University of Texas—George S. McReynolds, Bell county; S. J. Jones, Bell county; Dr. M. Faber, Smith county.

Board of Managers, A. & M. College—B. A. Riesner, Houston; J. R. Kubene, Fayette county; Will A. Miller, Potter county.

State Library Commission—Hugh Nugent, Fitzgerald county; Mrs. J. B. Dibrell, Grady county; Mrs. John G. McKay, Bell county.

Board of Managers, North Texas Hospital for the Insane at Terrell—J. S. Grinnam, Dallas; J. Griffith, Virgil Hattie, all of Kaufmann county.

Board of Regents, State Normal—J. S. Kendall, Dallas; A. B. Martin, Swisher county.

Governing Board, State Experimental Stations—Will H. Mayes, Brown county; P. L. Downs, Bell county; J. R. Boog-Scott, Coleman county; Charles Rogan, Travis county.

Managers Orphans Home at Corsicana—J. S. Callcutt, Navarro county; Mar Young, Navarro county.

Board of Managers, Waco's Confederate Home—W. S. Lemly, Bell county; Stanton Allen, Bell county.

Public Weighers at Galveston—Capt. E. K. Marras, H. Hoecker, J. E. Blake, C. M. Wolston.

Board of Managers, Insane Asylum at Austin—George Sutton, Williamson county; Hugh Hill, Travis county; J. D. Moore, Travis county; vice J. M. Kubene, resigned.

Blind Asylum, Austin—Ed Gleason, San Marcos, and Mr. Lawson of Travis county.

State School for the Deaf, Austin—Joe Koen and Sid Nolan, Travis county.

Negro Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum, Austin—J. A. Patton, Wash T. McDevitt, Travis county.

The senate hearing on the Texas company bill has been postponed until Monday night.

The calling of a special session was made a certainty in the house by the adoption of Lewelling's amendment to the rules providing that no general

Samuel Gompers, the labor leader, on the stand before the federal commission on Industrial Relations at the New York city hall when he called out, "You insult me," when asked regarding the liability of unions in cases of dynamiting and murder.

Mr. Gompers states that the two great troubles from which labor has been suffering are the constant influx of immigration and the failure of workers themselves to organize and have a voice in shaping the conditions under which they work.

Railroad Engineer Earns More Than Some Governors, But It's Not Living at All

Chicago, Jan. 29.—J. H. Keefe, having testified in the forenoon before the western railroad wage arbitration that engineers are highly paid, was quizzed during the afternoon as to the hours of work some of them put in to earn this money.

Keefe, who is assistant general manager of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad, was cross-examined by Warren S. Stone, representing the engineers. Stone said his attention was particularly attracted by instances of high pay to men in services other than passenger train.

"Take this man, J. A. McCredie, of the Canadian Northern," said Mr. Stone. "He is one of those chaps who made more than some governors, apparently. He made $333 in the month of October, 1913. What hours did he work?"

"He worked fourteen hours and forty-five minutes a day for nineteen days on a through freight and seventeen hours a day for twelve days," replied Keefe.

"How long do you think a man would live at that rate?" pursued Mr. Stone.

"Don't know," said the witness. Timothy Shea of the board of arbitration asked if a man working such hours could deliver the maximum of service to the railroad.

"I don't think he could give all that the railroad should have," responded Mr. Keefe.

Stone added that another engineer, who drew $229 in 1913, worked an average of 16 hours a day.

"Napoleon's resentment," he said, "was not as intense as the growing resentment of Germany today at the great source of supply of war material her enemies are finding in America. Great Britain's attitude toward our purchase of ships from Germany is nothing short of menacing."

All of these things, Mr. Hobson carried over to the next day.

HOBSON SAYS PEACE WITH JAPAN GAINED THROUGH A PROMISE

REPRESENTATIVE FROM ALABAMA CHARGES THAT UNITED STATES AGREED TO FREEDOM OF PHILIPPINES IN ORDER TO AVOID NIPPON COMPLICATIONS.

CRITICISM SHOT AT WILSON

Declaration Made That Chief Executive and Secretary Bryan Are Greatest Obstacles in National Defense Plans and That Prohibition Is Opposed by the Administration.

Washington, Jan. 29.—In a final appeal in the house tonight for a larger navy, Representative Hobson of Alabama declared it is his firm conviction that the United States has obtained peace with Japan only by giving assurance of speedy retirement from the Philippines.

Moreover, in a part of his speech, which went into the record without actually being delivered on the floor, the Alabama representative said he believed when the American fleet went around the world during the Roosevelt administration it was allowed to go to Japan only with the assurance that it would be out of the Pacific ocean by a fixed time.

He declared, in the course of the debate, that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are the greatest obstacles to national defense, and said it seems singular that the movement for prohibition likewise finds its greatest opposition from this administration.

"If national prohibition and national defense are the greatest questions in America, as I believe them to be," he said, "then the president of the United States, instead of being the country's asset, is the country's greatest liability."

Formal denial by Secretary Bryan that the administration's Philippine policy had been in any way affected by negotiations with Japan, or that the subject had been discussed here or in Tokyo was quoted by Mr. Hobson with the remark that this did not change his belief, as he would expect the secretary to deny it.

"I am further convinced," Mr. Hobson continued, "that our first inquiry into the intentions of Japan in seizing the islands in the Pacific, and the prospect of the complete overthrow of the open-door policy, leaving China to its fate to become a governed nation, while the commerce of America, which in cotton goods alone fell over $20,000,000 in Manchuria after Japan occupation, will be at the mercy of a competitor; while the overthrow of the balance of power in the Pacific would lead to an inevitable war."

Representative Hobson said he had felt for some time that the fleet never would go to the Pacific under the present administration. He reviewed the situation in Europe, referring to criticisms of America's conduct by both sides in the present war and to "arbitrary treatment of American ships and sailors" that the situation closely paralleled the conditions which led to the breach with France in 1900 and to the war with England in 1912.

"Napoleon's resentment," he said, "was not as intense as the growing resentment of Germany today at the great source of supply of war material her enemies are finding in America. Great Britain's attitude toward our purchase of ships from Germany is nothing short of menacing."

All of these things, Mr. Hobson carried over to the next day.

American Woman Here to Aid Serbs

(Mrs. Slavko Grovitch, aboard the Lusitania.)

Mrs. Slavko Grovitch, wife of the Serbian colonial secretary and formerly Miss Mabel Gordon Dunlop of West Virginia, arrived in this country on Saturday to arrange for a series of lectures in the homes of her friends for the benefit of Serbia. Seed and agricultural implements are badly needed in her adopted country, says Mrs. Grovitch. If the Serbians are to pull through the present crisis, the women will plant and harvest the crops while the men are in the field.

Main Witness in Phagan Case Gives Testimony in Lehon Subornation Trial

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 29.—Denial that he had ever told another negro that he had killed a girl in the factory where the body of Mary Phagan was found was made here today by James Conley, who was the state's final witness in the superior court trial of Dan S. Lehon, J. C. Tedder and Arthur Thurman for subornation of perjury.

William H. Barber represented the Lehon defense. He testified that he was present at the murder investigation and that he was a local lawyer.

Conley's testimony against Leo M. Frank and who was convicted as an accessory after the fact, was introduced in support of the statement of Rev. C. B. Raggsdale that he was paid $200 for signing a false affidavit receding on Conley. The negro was not cross-examined.

R. L. Barber, who made an affidavit supporting that of Raggsdale, which he also repudiated later, preceded Conley as a witness. He said he visited Thurman's office on April 22, 1914, and that he told the lawyer neither of the negroes he and Raggsdale overheard talking in an alley was Conley.

"Mr. Thurman asked me if $100 wouldn't persuade me to swear one of them was Conley," he testified. "I replied that $100 wouldn't persuade me to swear to a lie."

Barber then told of another visit he said he made to the lawyer's office the next day, declaring that Thurman finally agreed to pay him $100 to make an affidavit as to what he and the minister overheard. Tedder, he said, was present at the conference. He explained, however, that the affidavits of both Raggsdale and himself were made later in the office of Luther Z. Rosser, one of Frank's attorneys.

"If you did not believe one of the negroes was Conley, why did you swear to it in your affidavit?" inquired Solicitor General Dorsey, chief of the state's counsel.

"I didn't swear it," answered Barber.

"It is in the affidavit. How came it there?"

"I don't know. All that part is false."

ITALIAN SOLDIERS OF FIRST CATEGORY CALLED TO COLORS

MEMBERS OF FIELD ARTILLERY, BORN IN 1888, AND THE ALPINE TROOPS, AS WELL AS THOSE BORN IN 1891, 1892, 1893 AND 1894, ADVISED TO MAKE READY.

BATTLE RAGING IN POLAND

East Prussia, in Carpathian Range, Severest Fighting Is Taking Place, According to Reports, and Where Russians Have Been Repulsed—Germans Take Trenches.

Rome, Jan. 29.—A royal decree has been issued calling to the colors the Italian soldiers of the first and third categories born in 1888 and belonging to the field artillery and also the Alpine troops and the soldiers of the third category born in 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894, belonging to the Alpine troops.

Turks Reach Tor.

Cairo, via London, Jan. 29.—1:35 a. m.—The Turkish outposts have reached the vicinity of Tor and Kubi on the Sinai peninsula. Up to the present the fighting has consisted only of small outpost clashes.

Tor is on the Gulf of Suez, about 140 miles south of Suez.

Turks Make Capture.

Constantinople, Jan. 29.—Via London, Jan. 29.—2:22 p. m.—Following Turkish official communication was issued today:

"Our troops advancing on Oltu have captured 100 Russian soldiers. The battle in Azerbaijan, near Chot, has been continuing for a week against the Russian main force and is progressing favorably. We captured on January 27, south of Chot, the first line of the Russian entrenchments."

European Situation.

Again it is in the east that the most sanguinary fighting is taking place—in East Prussia, in parts of Poland and in the Carpathian range.

Important of these engagements is that in East Prussia, where the north of the Mazurian Lakes, where the Russians met a severe repulse at the hands of the troops of General von Hindenburg in the early days of the war. Here the Russians are battling hard with the Germans in an endeavor to pierce their way through to Koenigsberg. Already into East Prussia for a distance of from 20 to 30 miles, the Russians report they are fighting in the forests to the north of Gumbinnen and Pilskalen, a high, rugged north and south some 30 miles in length.

Petrograd says that trenches were taken from the Germans in Poland by bayonet charges and in the Carpathians the Russians have made successes.

Vienna declares that the west of the Uzak passes in the Carpathians the Russians have been repulsed with heavy losses and Petrograd probably confirms the facts that the Russians in this vicinity have met with a reverse by its statement that in the face of superior numbers in the region of Beskid their advance guards retreated slightly to a previously established position.

In the west only fighting of which promise has been made in the French official report occurred near Soissons, the region where the French recently were driven across the Aisne by the Germans. East of Soissons the Germans attempted to force the river at two points, but according to Paris both attacks were repulsed.

Cairo reports that Turkish outposts have been driven from the Sinai peninsula, on the Gulf of Suez.

Berlin asserts all the German warships engaged in last Sunday's battle have returned to their base except the Bluecher.

A royal decree has been issued calling to the colors Italy's soldiers of the first and third category, and also the Alpine troops. In the loss of the British armed merchant steamer Vikron off the coast of Ireland her entire crew of 258 men and boys of the naval reserve perished.

Austria is reported to have established a grain monopoly similar to that in operation in Germany.

Dunkirk Bombed.

Paris, Jan. 29.—The following official communication was issued this evening:

"At the east of Soissons the Germans have made two attempts to cross the Aisne—one at the Mill of the Rocks and the other at the head of the bridge which is held by our troops to the north of the bridge of Venet. These two attacks were repulsed.

"During the night of January 28 Dunkirk was bombed by more aviators, who caused some insignificant losses, but killed or wounded only a few persons.

"Between 11 o'clock the night of Jan. 28 and 2 o'clock of the morning of Jan. 29, two of our aviators launched numerous bombs upon the enemy's works in the region of Laon, Laferre and Soissons. On the morning of the 29th a German aeroplane was brought down south of Gerberchere. Its pilot and mechanic, a German officer and subofficer were made prisoners."

Russians Occupy Pilskalen.

London, Jan. 29.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd, dealing with the battle in East Prussia says:

"The Russians occupied Pilskalen after a day's shelling. The garrison suffered heavily before retiring. Of the population of 6000, only 300 women and children and 200 persons remained.

"The Germans have strong defenses northward of the Maurlan lake region to Interburg along the Angerapp river, but they are comparatively weak farther northward to Tilsit."

WOMEN'S WAGE HAS TWO SIDES TO IT

F. M. LONGLEY, CLOTHING MANUFACTURER, GIVES EMPLOYER'S VIEWPOINT.

GARMENT WORKERS SATISFIED

They Are Getting Their Deserts and Aren't Demanding More Laws. Evil Results of Legislation.

F. M. Longley, president of the Longley Clothing and Manufacturing company, and member of the committee named by the Retail Merchants' association to oppose the passage of a minimum wage law for women in this state, has furnished the Morning News with the following reply to the article in yesterday's News by John R. Spencer, advocating the passage of the law and criticizing the stand of the association:

To the Waco Morning News: I have just read in your issue of Jan. 29th the reply of Mr. John R. Spencer to the resolutions adopted by the Retail Merchants' association in regard to labor legislation now up for consideration before the Texas legislature. I am surprised at the attitude that has been taken by members of organized labor in Waco, and I presume over the state, in regard to labor legislation proposed, and especially the proposed enactment of a minimum wage law for women. If, in advocating this minimum wage legislation, they are the cause of the disastrous results such legislation would have they would change their opinion quickly. I make this statement from positive knowledge of what the results would be. I have been an employer of female labor for the past eight years and have been a close student of labor conditions from the standpoint of the female laborer, and there is no man, whether he belong to a union or not, who feels a keener interest in the female laborer than myself, and in this matter I think that it is just a difference of opinion between Mr. Spencer and those taking his view of the matter and others of us who take the opposite view.

Conducts Union Shop.

For the past four years I have been in charge of a factory in Waco employing women workers, all members of the United Garment Workers of America, and paying the full wage scale, and in this matter I think that it is just a difference of opinion between Mr. Spencer and those taking his view of the matter and others of us who take the opposite view.

There are some eight or ten factories in Texas making clothing now who work union labor exclusively and these are some of the women this proposed minimum compensation law is supposed to benefit, but they realize that it will act as a boomerang instead of a benefit and they do not desire such legislation, either in Texas or any other state. I have not come to this opinion regarding their desires merely from talking to a few of the members of the union, but from the minutes of their last annual convention at Nashville, Tenn., in October, 1914. In his annual address at this meeting President Rickert of the United Garment Workers of America had the following to say regarding this character of legislation:

"The question of a minimum wage for women is one that must be approached with great care. As to the desirous of helping our female workers, and I believe that so far as our organization is directly concerned, we really do not need legislation of this character, as our members employed in the overall industry have through our organization, been able to establish not only a fairly good minimum wage, but a maximum wage of forty-eight hours, this without any great upheaval in the industry at any time. It has been our policy to approach all radical changes with great care, and instead of making sweeping changes at any one time to gradually inaugurate reforms, and as a result of this policy our members are enjoying conditions far above those of the convention and published on page 235 of proceedings of the above convention.

Garment Workers Don't Desire It.

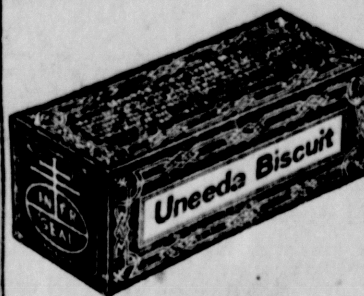

Now, as for the garment workers of Texas, I think I can safely say that they do not need and do not desire any such legislation. As to the results of such legislation on other lines of business, I am not able to predict with such certainty as I am on our own business. Should this law pass it would force us in self-protection to discharge quite a number of our employees on account of inefficiency to earn the minimum wage required by the proposed law. Our scale of wages is all fixed by agreement with the Garment Workers' union, and good operators can earn from $8 to $12 per week, and we have had them earn considerably in excess of this. As to the results of such legislation on their movements and cannot earn over $5 to $6 per week under the same wage scale. This is all they are worth, according to the scale set by their own union. What would these gentlemen suggest for these women? We also have a few employees who are too old to earn a full wage. We can give them light employment at which they can earn from $5 to $6 per week, which is all they can possibly be worth and which is a God-send to them. Would these gentlemen have us discharge these old women and leave them without any sort of a livelihood?

Another thing we must consider if this law were passed and we had to discharge these old women, and to compete with factories in other states making similar goods and competing with us? We certainly could not, and every factory in the state would be forced to go out of business or seek locations in other states, such as we may love Texas.

Mr. Spencer says, "Let us be decent, if we never have a factory," and statement is, I think, going a little bit too far. We have operated a factory without any legislative wage restrictions and those familiar with it have never yet called it indecent, and the average woman standard of the employees of this factory will compare favorably with any similar institution in the United States. In this respect we would refer to Miss Ethel Jackson, daughter of the Girls' Boarding Home on Franklin street, and numbers of others who are familiar with the conduct of our factory. There has been no temptation of working women to go astray to keep body and soul together," as Mr. Spencer states in his article. I have been associated with working girls and with other women on up to the highest class of society. I am glad to say that I have found the moral standard of working girls to compare favorably with that of any other class of women. They may not be quite so reserved in their manner, but when it comes to resistance to temptation, the average working girl can be depended on about as well as any other class of women.

No Business on Flesh and Blood.

Mr. Spencer states that "if the business interests must be built up on the flesh and blood of the innocent and helpless, etc.," but as yet I have not seen any business built up on any flesh and blood of the innocent and helpless and I hope I never will. During the past few months when business has been so dull on account of conditions caused by the war many employers in Waco have kept girls and women on their pay rolls when they would have been glad to be relieved of the expense of keeping them, because they knew they could get no other positions and the position even at a reduced salary meant a living for them. These men do not want to "dish out blood" money and want to do everything they can for the good of their employees, but they cannot wreck their business and their employees would not have them do so. I doubt if there is a department store in Waco that can show a profit for the period covered by the past four months. During this same time what has been the result of the minimum wage law in Oregon? They have a law of this kind in Oregon and when the "war panic" struck that state and business got too dull to keep all of the clerks in the department stores the merchants could not keep them on at a small reduction in wages until the panic was over. They must pay them the full wage required by the law or discharge them. I am informed by reliable authority that numbers of women were discharged in Oregon during this period whose employers would have gladly kept them on the pay roll.

Nine courses were served and adjournment found the guests before being dismissed. A twelve party to hear the Poor Little Rich Girl. This made Miss Lawson realize a birthday surprise which is already recorded in the club's birthday events within her life. Only girl guests were with her. Sweet peas, natural bloom, with candles, made the accessories to the carnation patronage.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB INCLUDES THE MEN

It is the custom of the Thursday Auction Bridge girls to enjoy one evening of each month with their men friends. This has been in progress during this winter, but the pastime was before been broken by the war. For Miss Fay Clinton to this be the first evening hostess for this fascinating game. The score count gave the victory to Ed Humphries and to Miss Alice Brazelton. The supper was offered in two courses. Within this game were the Mesdames Clinton, Brazelton, Ruth Hubby, Thelma Ashburn, Kathleen Reynolds, and Kate Reynolds, with Ed Humphries, Harry Gorman, Elliott Brockenborough, John Horsful, junior, William Crisler and Hugh Brewer.

MRS. R. O. ROUNSAVALL HONORS A LUNCHEON

Among the many courtesies shown the old home visit of Mrs. R. O. Rounsavall, Mrs. W. O. Wilkes selected for her, one of her pretty luncheons. Ten guests were bidden, thus a merry as well as a formal affair was formed. The table appointments were handier of the coming spring, made so by the beauty and the fragrance of the daffodils which were placed on the table. The same colors appeared in the golden shaded single lights, and yet again in the basket of blossoms which formed the design for the centerpiece. The hostess, Mrs. Rounsavall, was assisted by Mrs. Wilkes and her honor guests were the Mesdames Thorndyke Howe, of Massachusetts, Edward Howe, of Massachusetts, John O. L. Strubling, Charles Johnson, J. W. Hale and J. R. Ferrell.

THE BACHELOR MAIDS PLAY WITH MISS LUCILE HILL

The regular weekly game of the Bachelor Maids had quite a flurry about the time of the New Year. Miss Lucile Hill on Thursday. This game because Miss Hill had added several table and prizes as well. In the scoring, the head fall for the club was to Miss Lucile Hill, for the guests to Miss Katherine Reynolds, and for the consolation out to Miss Vivien Mayfield. Miss Stella Lucy is the hostess with Miss Hill. The Bachelor Maids were the Mesdames Lurline Moseley, Lucretia Crawford, Winifred Otis of Chicago, Marian Duncan, Dixon Holliday, Lillian Westbrook, Gertrude Wilson, Shilke Thompson, Norma Bonner, Enrique Smith and Frances Van Boddie.

In the evening Miss Hill was again guestess quite informally, to a few whom she called in for the pastime of evening bridge.

THE STUDY SUFFRAGE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

At the library on Friday morning, the members of the Study Suffrage club met for the annual election of officers and for other business. This resulted in the re-election of all the former officers except Mrs. J. W. Hale, one of the vice presidents, who could not serve longer. Mrs. H. B. Mistrout is her successor. The officers as now held are, Mrs. Edward R. Patton, president, the Mesdames R. G. Patton and H. B. Mistrout, vice presidents, Mrs. Llewellyn Aubrey, treasurer, and Mrs. William McCull, secretary. In addition, there is a board of directors. It was decided that communication should be made to the members of the club in the event each can be secured for addresses in Waco. Mrs. W. E. Spell, who has just returned from Austin, reported upon the strong personality of the Study Suffrage club, and Miss Todd, vice president of the legislature. There is to be some line of study in this club, presumably the child labor conditions in Texas.

MRS. JOHN W. ORAND LITERARY CLUB

By special invitation the Literary club met with Mrs. John Orand on Thursday. A former member, but of recent months withdrawn, it was the pleasure of Mrs. Orand to provide this for her club friends. The Mesdames Rives Posten Halsey and W. S. Gillespie, with Miss Minnie Johnson and Mrs. H. R. Brewer were the guests of the afternoon. The subject for the literary feature bore upon "Orators and Oratory." The underlying idea was "Why the Art of Oratory Has Declined." There followed in review such men as Patrick Henry, John C. Calhoun and others of their fame. Why are there none such today? Several contributions were made by the members. Mrs. J. B. Powell leading. Others were Mrs. William Sleeper, reading for Miss Olive Halbert, Mrs. W. M. Foster reading for Mrs. Lee Schmitt, and a close Mrs. W. V. Woodson discussed whether or not the negro was a natural humorist and orator. The negative side was favored, but, the drift of discussion led into important incidents. In further declamation known to the members. The song of the afternoon was the inspiring "Dixie," sung by Minnie Johnson with Mrs. Mattie D. Willis at the piano.

THE MISSES HOPKINS FOR THE T. A. G. CLUB

It was, indeed, the jolly evening with the T. A. G.'s and their invited guests, when then entertained in the home of the Misses Ida and Fay Hopkins. This society came largely through the demand that each man appear in overalls, while each girl would have her jaunty little apron. All responded. The contest came in forcing the men to take a turn at handkerchief hemming. These took the turn, but no one could find the hemming except with Forest Buchanan, who received an award. For a consolation, a favor was presented Clarence Heater. In further presentation, the club had souvenirs of the evening in tiny garden implements. This all made a very delightful time, even to the supper feature, which still further introduced bits of good cheer. The guest list reads: Misses Gertrude Martin, Midge Sanger, Frances Sanger, Stella Allen, Crystal Caswell, Florence Wilson, Mary Andrews, Letta Jaynes, Letta May, Olga May King, Eva Cornish, Midge Sharp, Jennie Bowen and Irene Ard with Forest Buchanan, Clarence Heater, Womack, Hines, Ross, Allen, H. H. Appel, C. H. Appel, Oscar Hunter, Jenkins, Kline, Andrews, Woodward, Witt, Scott, Woody, Allen.

MRS. CHARLES B. IVY IN THURSDAY AT HOME

Just because she wanted to have every one of her friends with her at the same time, was the cause, so Mrs. Charles Ivy gave, for invitations into her cozy little home out on Herring avenue. With the avenue recently paved and the Ivy home recently under the renovator's touch, it was a city scene along the highway which led to the cordial welcome within the Ivy parlors. In all, more than three hundred had been bidden for the two receiving hours of Thursday. Mrs. Ivy is a popular little woman in her neighborhood, in her church, in her Shakespeare club, and with those friends who have known her for life. Thus it is no surprise that her little home should have been filled all during the time that her gracious welcome was being given. The house party was not large, yet sufficient to repeat the hostess' greeting at every turn. The cards were handed to Little Miss Evelyn Bondurant. Miss Kate Friend was at the soiree door. Following the hostess in line to the tea room were the Mesdames A. L. Skinner, Leslie Stegall, F. H. Wilcox, Shapley, T. J. Edmondson, Thomas Stewart, J. W. Bondurant, Horace Smith, Fred Mallender, T. E. Hubby and Joseph Ivy, with Miss Jane Moore. As matron and maid within the tea room were the Mesdames J. R. Walcott, Loraine Rogers, Turner Hubby and William Mistrout, with the Mesdames Grace Dyer, Clara Primm, Grace Byrd, Ruth Hubby, Margaret Viverett, and Celia Moore. The refreshment service followed the requests for 5 o'clock tea. Within the living room, one caught the beauty of the rose bud, but within the tea room it was the fragrance of the daffodil. A number of these clusters had been clipped and placed in graceful poised within the Calabrian basket which centered the table. Many more were yet on their stem in jardiniere around the room. The same shade in candle held in rose cup encircled the basket. Many left the word of compliment to Mrs. Ivy for her pretty and fragrant tea room. For the two hours it was an unbroken succession of calls, several out of town guests being noted; also, several who had been detained at home were out for the first time. In all, it was

DREADEFUL PAINS GREAT SUFFERING

Was the Lot of This Lady Who Tells the Story of How She Recovered Her Health.

Dallas, N. C.—Mrs. Thomas Davis, of this place, says: "About two years ago, when I was eighteen years old I was in a bad condition from womanly troubles. I fell off until I weighed not more than 85 lbs.

I suffered dreadful pains in my hips, sides and abdomen, for about 5 days out of every month.

I couldn't sleep at night, and the pains were so dreadful I couldn't lie down for the blood would seem to rush to my head.

I felt I must have some relief, for it seemed that the awful suffering would surely kill me.

I had read of what Cardui had done for others, and thought I would try it. After the use of one bottle, the dreadful pains had entirely stopped and I was able to sleep.

After using four bottles, I was a well woman. I was regular, I got back my flesh, and I now weigh 126 lbs., and am able to do all my work without any trouble.

Society Notes

Mrs. Dan Wise will be hostess to the Matinee Bridge on next Wednesday.

Several informal afternoons are in prospect for the guests of Mrs. Minnie Carro, King, the Mesdames Keith from Beaumont.

By special request, the next meeting of the Literary club comes with Mrs. Thomas McCullough, for several years a popular member.

The Mesdames T. W. Robertson and Mattie D. Willis have been added to the committee for conducting the winter campaign in the Fourth club district.

The prediction is that this spring will find our comfortable "middles" converted into the prevailing wrinkled blouse from which has held with our winter wardrobe.

After a few days' visit with her sister, Miss Decca Lamar West, Mrs. Mary West Beatty will take permanent residence with Miss Mary Belle Taylor, North Fifth street.

Miss Elizabeth Elder, the early February Dallas bride, was being much fettered until the passing away of the groom-to-be's grandmother caused the cancelling of invitations.

The wife uses her husband's card only in formal visits, party calls to which her husband has been invited, the first call in a new home, the call where a man visitor is within the home, and such.

If we desire to be very correct in regard to the pretty little mode of dance trees let us call them the "kumquat." Do you know this tree is the result of experiment in crossing a lemon with an orange?

The graduating recital of Miss Fern Thurman will come at the Episcopal church, let us call them the "kumquat." Do you know this tree is the result of experiment in crossing a lemon with an orange?

No parties in prospect, and Lent arriving with middle February! Cannot some one relieve this dearth for the coming week? But, remember, Mrs. Fred Robinson as president of the city federation says no parties on next Thursday afternoon.

The visit of Mrs. R. O. Rounsavall to this city is drawing near its close. In the meantime, Mrs. Rounsavall is giving invitation to the Sans Soucis to her guests in the home of Mrs. John Stier before her withdrawal for a round of Texas visits.

Now, really, it is not so bad, this idea of substituting the cotton for the linen on our tables. Think about it, and you may come to like the change. In any event, this will be in line with "diversify crops." Why not our women diversify home consumption?

If an emergency comes, and you have no engraved visiting card, write your name with lead pencil rather than take pattern from Mrs. Womack's as an emergency case. The ink implies a prearranged use, and thus bespeaks carelessness in the card which tells so much for the women of elegance.

The next time we attend a reception we must, if we are in the formal line, take pattern from Mrs. Womack's hostesses, and each introduce the caller to the one beside her. This is an omission all too prevalent within our society. The caller may feel awkward, so may the one receiving, if no introduction is made.

Now, just listen! Caruso has bought a skirt and some flounces. What is more, he paid $3.65 for the same. What he is to do with them, is the question, just about as puzzling as

ITCHING, BLISTERED SKIN—ERUPTION ALL HIS LIFE, NOW CURED

Nov. 9, 1914—"All my life, until about a year ago, I was troubled with itching and sores over my entire body. The itching and burnings were terrible, and I could hardly sleep. I used many treatments that were unsuccessful and did not give me any relief. I started using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and they helped me wonderfully. I WAS RELIEVED AT ONCE, and after about two dozen applications I can say that I was free and cured of that awful disease. My skin is now as clear as anybody's."—Signed Geo. Whitcher, Jr., R. F. D. nestly insisted, proved the imperative necessity of strengthening the United States navy far beyond the point contemplated in the present program. He discussed the navy at length, compared it with the sea forces of foreign powers and appealed for a reorganization of the navy for more men and more ships.

In a reply to Mr. Hobson, Representative Williams of Illinois ridiculed the idea of Japan landing an invading force on the Pacific coast and insisted that war from any side was but a remote possibility.

Earlier in the day Representative Gardner of Massachusetts spoke in support of his resolution for an investigation of the defenses.

Representative Saunders of Virginia, arguing against the contention that preparation for war is a guarantee of peace, suggested that the emperor of Germany is being looked upon with "mistrust" now because of the preparation Germany had been making for the present war. He asked if anybody believes there would be no war in Europe if President Wilson had occupied the place of the emperor.

Representative Helm of Kentucky said England had had three-quarters of the earth's surface under martial law for fifty years, and asked which is the "greater evil," England or Germany?

General debate on the naval bill was closed late tonight.

SANITARIUM BOARD RESIGNS.

Thirty-Six of Forty-two Members of St. Paul Board Quit.

Dallas, Jan. 29.—Considerable comment is being caused in Dallas medical circles over the resignation of the staff of St. Paul's sanitarium. The resignation was tendered some days ago and was signed by thirty-six of the forty-two physicians who went to make up the staff. None of the medical men who tendered their resignations would make any comment as to their reasons for resigning. Dr. J. B. Smoot was president of the medical staff and Dr. A. I. Folsom was the secretary.

When asked by a reporter for the cause of the wholesale resignations, Dr. Smoot said: "I am no longer connected with the staff and have no statement to make."

Dr. I. A. Folsom, who was secretary of the staff and also acted as secretary of the physicians, held when it was voted to resign, also refused to make a statement.

The sister superior in charge of St. Paul's sanitarium also declined to comment on the action of the physicians in resigning in a body from the staff of the sanitarium.

The letter of resignation was addressed to Father Sullivan of St. Louis, head of the St. Vincent Fathers, under whose auspices the sanitarium is operated. The letter followed:

"Father Sullivan, St. Louis, Mo.: Reverend Father—We, the following signed members of the staff of St. Paul's sanitarium, do hereby tender to you our resignations from the staff and training school of St. Paul's sanitarium. Respectfully, J. B. Smoot, W. E. Howard, H. G. Walcott, R. S. Lovins, R. H. Daniel, W. B. Carroll, T. C. Gilbert, W. T. Baker, F. A. Pierce, H. B. Decker, W. A. Boyce, Byron S. Bruce, A. I. SIGNS BILL FOR NEW appropriation bill shall be brought in the first sixty days of the session. This was adopted by 70 to 43, and the bill thus amended was adopted.
M'LENNAN CO. COURT

Platform demands are to have preference in the legislation of the house as they are in the senate.

Amendments Favorable.

Austin, Jan. 29.—House committee on constitutional amendments today reported favorably on a proposed constitutional amendment providing for the levying of a road tax of 50 cents on the $100 property valuation.

Reported unfavorably two proposed constitutional amendments by Hopkins and Beard of Milam, providing for the levying of a road tax of 50 cents on the $100 property valuation.

House committee on criminal jurisdiction reported unfavorably two bills by Middleton and Nabors, which provided a heavy penalty for charging usurious interest.

House committee on insurance held a lengthy hearing today on the McCasill bill regulating reciprocal insurance concerns. The reciprocity was not satisfied with the bill as drawn and there was a meeting between the representatives of the reciprocal and an amended bill was the result, and this measure was today reported favorably.

This bill as amended is satisfactory to the insurance associations and also to the wholesale merchants and credit men's associations. It provides for a bond to be given merchants by the reciprocal and gives the commissioner of insurance and banking limited jurisdiction and protects the safe reciprocity and is sufficiently strong to keep out the wildcat concerns.

Industrial Welfare Bill.

Austin, Jan. 29.—One of the most far-reaching labor bills yet acted on during the present session was favorably recommended by the labor committee of the house today. It provides for the establishment of an industrial welfare commission, similar to the law in force in Wisconsin, the establishment of a minimum wage scale in various lines of mercantile and industrial activities and provides for the protection of the lives, health and morals of the workingmen.

The hearing was attended by more than fifty women, including Miss Helen Todd of California and Miss Eva Goldsmith of Houston.

Jitney Car Bill.

Austin, Jan. 29.—Representative Mendell's bill regulating the operation of jitney cars is still pending before house judiciary committee today set for hearing on next Tuesday.

Democrats Attempt to Crush Opposition

Washington, Jan. 29.—Determined to crush republican opposition and end the long fight over the government ship purchase bill, the democrats held the senate in session past midnight tonight with the avowed purpose of adjourning final vote before recess or adjournment.

How long the minority will be able to hold off the vote no one would predict, but even the most optimistic democrats admitted that the continuance of the session might last until tomorrow night. Others thought it more likely to continue two or three days.

Senator Smoot was speaking at midnight and had intimated that he would hold the floor as long as his strength would permit.

The democrats, by a series of parliamentary maneuvers, had succeeded in putting the ship purchase bill before the senate on a motion of Senator Fletcher to put the democratic caucus substitute for the original bill upon its passage.

There was an immediate demand for the call of absentees and Senator Smoot began speaking while deputies and sergeants at arms were scouring the city for members.

"We have the bill before the senate," said Senator Kern later, "and we propose to continue in session until it reaches a vote. Of course, I will not say that something might not happen to bring about another recess, but I doubt it. There may be some amendments to be offered. I have just heard that Senator LaFollette wishes to offer an amendment with relation to the permanency of the proposed government shipping enterprise. It may be that some of these amendments will be accepted, but it is our purpose to insist upon the continuous session until this bill is passed."

Senator LaFollette said he expected the bill would be passed.

CLASS RESULTS AT Y.

The results of the three standing broad jump contest, the athletic event of the week at the Y, in all classes, were as follows:

Senior High School class—A. C. Pickett, 24 feet 10 inches; Wood, 24 feet 6 inches; O'Neil, 23 feet 10 inches.

Junior High School class—Selmers, 22 feet 5 inches; Huff, 21 feet 11 inches; Murphy, 21 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Junior boys—Harkins, 20 feet 1 inch; Ingram, 19 feet 3 inches; Baugh, 19 feet 1 inch.

Employed boys class—Brown, 24 feet 10 inches; Woodruff, 23 feet 11 1/2 inches; Sheppard, 23 feet 9 inches.

Seniors—Legow, 27 feet 7 inches; Henry, 27 feet 4 inches; Preston, 26 feet 7 inches.

Carranza at Texas City.

Houston, Tex., Jan. 29.—Generals Sebastian, Carranza and Salinas of the constitutional army arrived at Texas City today on the steamer City of Tampico. They are believed to be en route to northern Mexico via El Paso.

They arrived on the same vessel and all report business at a standstill there.

MORE THAN THOUSAND
HEAR MRS. CURTIS

More than a thousand persons heard Mrs. Nannie Webb Curtis speak on "The Twentieth Century Woman" yesterday afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church. Her address was delivered at the closing session of the City Federation of Mission societies, which held an all-day meeting yesterday.

Mrs. W. W. Woodson was elected president at the morning session. Other officers named were Mrs. J. T. Strain, first vice president; Mrs. Bert Hatcher, second vice president; Mrs. R. B. Spencer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sid Burrows, recording secretary; Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, reporter.

The executive board met at 9:30 a. m. the first devotional session beginning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. W. W. Woodson led the devotional exercises with Mrs. D. Lacy at the organ.

Reports of the vice presidents were received as follows: Mrs. J. C. Lattimore, home missions; Miss Ada Risher, social service; Mrs. O. E. Arbuckle, mission study.

It was decided to prepare a supply box to be used by the new city nurse in case of emergencies.

All but $5,000 of the fund needed for the State Training School for Girls has been raised, according to the report of Mrs. E. Rotan. A report on the local work of raising funds for the training school was made by Mrs. R. L. Abbott. Miss Stella Lacy rendered a vocal solo which was very much enjoyed.

The church parlors were filled at noon for lunch, the women bringing box lunches with them and the women of the church supplying other eatables to round out the meal.

Mrs. F. P. Culver led the afternoon devotional exercises at 2 o'clock. Resolutions were adopted, the new officers installed and the address by Mrs. Curtis completed the program.

WOMEN'S WAGE HAS TWO SIDES TO IT

at $5 or $6 per week, but the law would not permit it, so they turned up to face the temptation. Mr. Spencer lays stress on it.

Another thing to be considered is not only the factories that would be run out of the state by such a law, but the factories of the future which would not get on and on which our future prosperity absolutely depends, for we can never have a great state until we manufacture more of our own products and have more pay rolls in our midst.

When on this subject I would like to call attention to the little city of LaGrange, Ga., where I was raised and am familiar with the conditions there. They have six large cotton mills worth about a half million dollars each and consuming nearly three times as much cotton as the county produces. During this depression, when the mills have been running full time and the pay roll money turned loose in the town every week. The mills, consuming more cotton than is produced locally, pay above the market price for wagon cotton and every farmer has a ready market for his cotton at a premium over the market price, and on January 1st the LaGrange National bank showed heavier individual deposits than I have ever seen on any former statement they have made. They decided to organize a new mill (the seventh) in December, with $500,000 capital, and in a week they had placed all of the stock and were refusing subscriptions. I know of my own personal knowledge that the operators in these mills live in good, comfortable houses, have good school advantages for their children and earn good living wages and always work full time.

We have got to build up such a state that has a reasonable child labor law, but they do not discourage factories in their midst with legal restrictions that make their profitable operation burdensome. I merely mention this town because I know of it from personal knowledge, but there are many other similar communities.

We have got to build up such industrial communities in Texas before we enjoy the prosperity to which we are entitled, but we cannot do it by passing such laws as are contemplated by these well-meaning, but misguided men.

This law would also serve to increase the already burdensome, high cost of living, for department stores, laundries, and other institutions that employ women, who do a local business would simply add the additional cost to the price of their goods, or their services for laundrying women's clothes as the case may be. The factories doing a business in competition with other institutions out of the state would be forced to go out of business, or leave the state to be able to meet the competition.

I fail to see from any viewpoint where such a law would be of any benefit to women workers, but on the other hand I am firmly convinced that it would work a very great hardship on many of them. I think it is the most ill-advised piece of legislation that has ever been proposed to my knowledge, in the Texas legislature.

F. M. LONGLEY.

PROGRESSIVES MAY SUPPORT SHIP BILL

Washington, Jan. 29.—After progressive republican senators had proposed amendments to the government ship purchase bill today with the suggestion that they might support the measure in amended form, the senate settled down to listen again to another opposing speech by Senator Gallinger. The senator read into the record many pages of reports on ocean transportation, ship subsidies, histories of famous filibusters, and the news of the day from a morning newspaper.

Late in the day republican leaders conferred informally when confounded with rumors from the democratic side that an effort would be made to hold the senate in session all night. It was agreed that early in the evening a program of parliamentary obstruction should be instituted. Several senators planned to call up pending bills on the calendar, demanding roll calls on each motion. It also was agreed that senators should unanimously consent to be explanatory and demand a roll call upon each objection.

The republican senators, as on previous night sessions, abandoned all efforts to conceal all obstructive tactics and as the evening wore on it was apparent that another endurance test was on. While some of the democrats doubt that there would be insistence upon the point tonight it was declared that all-night sessions certainly would be resorted to in the near future.

Senator Norris of Nebraska suggested that the senate should amend the bill to insure permanency of operation of ocean ships by the government and to prohibit purchase of ships from belligerents without the consent of the senate.

Senator Kenyon, another progressive republican, presented amendments to make the shipping board entirely civilian and to prohibit shipment of munitions of war to belligerent nations.

the effort to repeal the law will come from citizens of Texas, and no part of it from the foreign life insurance companies.

The Election Today an Issue for Waco Voters.

To the Voters of Waco:

As you are aware of the special election to fill the vacancy in the Eleventh Senatorial District occurs today. Responding to requests of voters of the district, the writer agreed to become a candidate for the place.

Millam county has a candidate, too, and the information from that county is that it is well organized in behalf of that candidate, who has also made a campaign in Falls county.

I offered for the place largely because of my appreciation of the interests of Waco, which are measurably involved in such matters. In this time any city of commercial and manufacturing importance with aspirations of legitimate nature to be promoted, has intimate concern as to its representation in legislative bodies. It has occurred to me also that I might be able to some extent to serve the people of my home county and all the counties in the district by attention to their interests. It was these considerations far more than personal ambition that induced me to become a candidate. I am sure that those who know me will believe this to be true.

I shall appreciate your support in the election and add the statement that the result will hinge on the vote cast in Waco. It is the first time in my life that I have asked at your hands an endorsement of this nature. If you shall see fit to give it your action will be duly appreciated by me and if sent to the state capital I shall strive to pursue a course there that will merit your approval and I trust your appreciation.

Respectfully,

A. R. MCCOLLUM,
Waco, Jan. 29, 1915.

FIRST NATIONAL IS WINNER.

The First National Bank quintette defeated the Central Texas Exchange National Bank team in a fast basketball game at the Y. M. C. A. "Friday night" last night. The final score was 32 to 8, but interest was intense throughout the game.

Gribble of the First Nationals was high man with 13 goals to his credit. Moseley of the same team secured three. Arnold and Willett of the Central Texas five were the mainstays for their team. Arnold throwing two field goals and Willett two field goals. Peterson scored the only other basket for him team.

After the first five minutes in the first half had passed it was only a question of how big a score the First National could make. Their superior wind held them in fine shape. Billy Smith refereed the game.

We will thank you to publish this communication in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to who is conducting this fight before the Texas legislature. If the Texas companies have paid lobbyists in Austin it is no concern of ours, for our purpose here is to assure your readers that every cent which will be used in

"Charlotte Temple."

This afternoon and tonight will see the last two performances of Besse Dainty at the Majestic Family Theatre. The offering will be "Charlotte Temple," which had its first performance Thursday afternoon. This play has proven an exceptionally attractive offering, and in it Miss Dainty is supplied with a role which matches almost any she has had at this theatre since she came here.

The play is adapted from the novel, "Charlotte Temple," and tells the story of a little girl who is lured away from a girls' boarding school and taken across the Atlantic to America by a British officer. He promises to marry her as soon as the ship reaches America; but another officer, who wants the girl for himself, makes it appear that she is false and her lover deserts her. He marries a rich young woman and shortly after learns of the trick by which the little girl had been wronged. He seeks out the guilty brother officer and kills him. The mother and father of the girl reach her just before her death.

The play is beautifully written and beautifully mounted. The acting is smooth and convincing, and the piece points a moral well worth the learning.

"Three Weeks."

Waco has the distinction today of showing the most talked of film in the world for the first time in the whole south—Elinor Glynn's "Three Weeks." As is well known, "Three Weeks" created a universal sensation when the book was brought out, over 50,000,000 copies have been sold, and the work has actually been translated into every civilized language. The management of the Hippodrome desires it to be understood right now that the film has passed the most rigid censorship. The national board of censorship passed it in New York before it was released. Its verdict was that the film version of "Three Weeks" was vivid in interest, but contained nothing that would offend. Easily Accomplished. One afternoon an elderly woman, who was not accustomed to traveling, boarded a train for a short run to the adjacent county, and when her destination was eventually announced she nervously called to the conductor.

"What can I do for you, Madame?" asked the conductor, stepping to her side.

"Oh, Mr. Conductor," she exclaimed, "there is the town where I am going, and I don't know exactly which door to go out."

"You may go out by either door, Madame," gently instructed the conductor. "The car stops at both ends."
